Long Glace Gloves,

Regular Prices, $3 and $3.50

The seemingly impossible thing to do is sometimes accomplished when least expected.

It's the case with these Long Gloves. They've been scarce enough at regular prices, but our glove man was in New York last week and secured a limited number of first-class gloves to sell at about twenty-five per cent. under price.

12-Button Glace Glove black only, $3 value for $2.25 pair.
16-Button Glace, in brown and black; $3.50 value for $2.50 pair.

WORK OF U. S. CIRCUIT COURT OF APPEALS

Two Cases Argued and Several Opinions Handed Down.

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals reconvened yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, with Judge Goff, Brawley and McDowell sitting.

The cases argued yesterday were: Southern Railway Company, plaintiff in error, vs. Joseph Oliver Carr, defendant in error; in error to Circuit Court at Greenville, S. C. Argued by C. P. Sanders, Spartanburg, S. C., for the plaintiff in error, and by Stanyarne Wilcox, Spartanburg, S. C., and submitted.

Board of Commissioners of Hartford county, plaintiff in error, vs. Evelyn S. Tome et al, defendants in error; in error to the Circuit Court at Raleigh, N. C. Argued by James E. Shepherd, of Raleigh, N. C., for the plaintiff in error, and by F. H. Bushee, of Raleigh, N. C., for the defendant in error, and submitted.

The court announced and handed down its opinion in the following cases:

Matheson Alkali Works, plaintiff in error, vs. T. T. Matheson, defendant in error; in error to Circuit Court at Abingdon, Va. Opinion by Judge Morris, affirmed, with costs.

Benjamin W. Bee et al, appellants, vs. George W. Barnes, appellee; appeal from the Circuit Court at Parkersburg, W. Va. Opinion by Judge Pittchard, affirmed, with costs.

The cases in the call for today are: Guaranty Trust and Safe Deposit Company, appellant, vs. William H. Sanders et al, appellees; appeal from Circuit Court at Raleigh, N. C. To be argued by Miller &amp; Whaley, of Charleston, S. C., for appellant, and by C. M. Bushee, of Raleigh, N. C., for the appellees.

Lynn Cotton Mills, plaintiff in error, vs. Francis Cotton Company, defendant in error; in error to Circuit Court at Greenville, S. C. To be argued by William G. Sirrine, of Greenville, S. C., for plaintiff in error, and by Carle &amp; Carle, of Spartanburg, S. C., and J. A. McCullough, of Greenville, S. C., for the defendant in error.

C. M. Bushee, of Raleigh, N. C., was admitted to practice in this court.

PASSENGERS MUST SIGNAL MOTORMEN

Justice Crutchfield Passed Upon Vexed Question—Worthless Men Must Work.

Passengers who wish to board street cars must give the motorman some signal. The mere standing on the corner is not sufficient evidence that the person so standing desires to board the car. This is the opinion of Justice Crutchfield, whose attention was called to the matter by two citizens.

The justice fined the company in one case for running by a passenger who had signaled. After thinking with this case the One John turned to the drunks and "soaked" each and every one of them. He says that they must get out of town, get sober, or go to work.

Chicken Jones, who has been before the court so often that he has worn a path from the cell to the bar, was sent down for four months.

Emanuel Iverson, cruelly worked a mule, and paid $20 for it. Justice Crutchfield said that he hoped the money could not be raised, so that the negro would have to spend the time in jail.

Souvenir Program.

At a meeting of the committee on anniversary ball and supper of Dixie Aerle, Practical Order of Eagles, at Masonic Temple, Wednesday, January 16, 1907, it was decided to issue a souvenir program for the occasion, and the committee will proceed with the work on an extensive scale. The program will contain a history in general of the Eagles, and in particular of the local order, which is now four years old, and comprises a membership of 20. The cover design will be very artistic.

Captain Wilson Away.

State Highway Commissioner P. St. Julien Wilson is in Washington, conferring with the Agricultural Department concerning the Norfolk Boulevard, which is to be built jointly by the State and national governments. Captain Wilson will return here to-day.

FRISCHKORN WELL CONVINCED OF ENGINE'S FORCE

NEW AMOSKEAG FIRE ENGINE.

Stream Hit President of Board of Fire Commissioners and Knocked Him Down.

ESCAPED WITHOUT INJURY

Test Very Satisfactory and Big New Machine Was Accepted.

The new fire engine for the Richmond Fire Department, that arrived a few days ago, was given its trial tests yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Ninth Street and the Basin Bank. The engine is the Amoskeag, 1906, pattern, third size, with a capacity of six hundred gallons a minute. It was made by the American Locomotive Company, at Manchester, N. H., for the International Power Company, and was tested here yesterday in the presence of the Board of Fire Commissioners and Chief Fuller. The test was very satisfactory. The engine maintained an average of 10 pounds of steam with an average water pressure of 20 pounds for an hour's run. The engine was accepted by the commissioners at once.

The company was represented by Mr. Geo. G. Tibbels, of Boston, who made the sale to the city.

Mr. Harry Morrill, of Manchester, N. H., was the delivering engineer.

Knocked Him Down.

The new engine will be placed in commission in Engine Company No. 8, Fulton, and will be in charge of Engineer Thos. H. Welmer, of the Richmond Fire Department.

The commissioners present at the test were John H. Frischkorn, president; G. Watt Taylor, vice-president, and Messrs. L. C. Jenkins, Robt. Lecky, Jr., Jos. L. Levy and T. Moncure Perkins.

They all expressed themselves as entirely satisfied with the performance of the machine.

The engine is finished with Russia iron, jackets and nickel-plated dome, bands and trimmings. Surmounted on it is a large locomotive-style bell, which is different from any signal bell now on any of the Richmond fire apparatus.

A very amusing accident happened to President John Frischkorn while the test was being made, and one which might have resulted seriously. As it was, Mr. Frischkorn simply had, as he said, his usual run of luck. He was standing near the nozzle of the stream admiring it, when the men handling it in some manner let it get away from them, and the stream, with about 30 pounds water pressure, hit the president and knocked him down and rolled him over. He came up serenely smiling, and was the first of the evening explaining how it all happened. The crowd was convulsed with laughter, and although Captain Frischkorn got a good ducking, the weather was warm, and he seemed to enjoy the attention as much as any one else, and said he was used to it. He gets a similar dose every time he goes to a fire.

Masquerade Party.

A delightful surprise in the form of a masquerade party was given in the home of Miss Nannie Smith on Twenty-second Street, at 10 o'clock, last night. A number of her young friends, dressed in costumes of other pastimes served to enliven the occasion. Refreshments were served about midnight, after which the gayeries were resumed until the wee sma' hours of the morning, when the guests dispersed.

Those present were Misses May Ferguson, Grace Cox, Lucy Jenkins, Carrie Parsons, Eva Dugins, Margaret Cox, Mable Lowe, Beadie Dugins, Susie Lowe, Nell Austin, Lorene Jackson, Maude Coleman, Virgie Newman, Annie Curtis, Nannie Smith, Mrs. Lowe, Mrs. Thompson, Messrs. Ernest Smith, Frank Cardwell, Thompson Early, Mason Smith, Bass Spuler, James Spuler, Burnett, Austin, Baker, Harper, Clement Hitt and Wingfield.

Raines—Adkins.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Morrison, of No. 110 Twenty-second Street, was the scene of a quiet but pretty marriage Wednesday evening, when Miss Alice Maude Adkins became the bride of Mr. J. E. Raines. Both Mr. Raines and his bride are well known and popular young people of King William county.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. N. J. Pruden, also of King William county.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a traveling suit of gray cloth, with hat and gloves to match, and carried chrysanthemums.

Among the guests who witnessed the ceremony were Messrs. Eva Robins, Ethel Morrison, Rena, Schlicher Margaret and Florence Morrison, Louise Schlicher, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Slick, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Beasley, of Hanover county. Mr. and Mrs. Raines are spending their honeymoon in Richmond and Farmington, and are the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Morrison. They will make their future home in King William county.

Pattern-Making.

The opening of a school of pattern-making, in connection with the leather trades classes at the Virginia Mechanical Institute, has been very successful, there being thirty-two students already. Mr. W. H. Hill, a mechanical draftsman of this city, is the instructor.

LUCKHARDT AGAIN MAKES APPEARANCE

Man in Winchester, Tenn., Inquires of Police Department and Secures Information.

Imbued with the idea that his long-lost child is under the sheltering arm of a woman he once knew, but of whose whereabouts he is not now aware, and of the opinion that credence is given to his story that he has spent $5,000 in pursuit of the kidnapped girl, Charles K. Luckhardt, once a cane-rack artist in the city, well known to the police, is now in Winchester, Tenn., laboring in a laundry and telling the folks about his troubles.

So persistent presumably has he stuck to his story about an inheritance from an uncle in Pittsburgh, Pa., who died and left him a vast sum, that at least one man in Winchester has become interested. So interested is this person, Mr. J. L. Gorton, a dealer in mineral, timber and farm lands, that he has written to the chief of police here to know if he hasn't a "crank" there. His letter reads: "There is a man here that claims to come from your city, and that his name is Charles Luckhardt, of 76 Western Canal Street, of your city. He wears fine diamonds, but is working in a laundry. Claims that he is hunting his daughter, that was stolen from his home on July 15, 1894. He claims to have spent over $5,000 in his search for his daughter, and that he inherited a large fortune from an uncle in Pittsburgh, Pa."

This man acts queer, and tells curious story. Will you kindly investigate his story, and send me a description of the Charles Luckhardt that lost his child, if there is such a man, and whether the story is true. We think here that we have a crank in this man."

(Signed) "J. L. GORTON."

The letter was turned over to Captain A. M. Tomlinson, Chief of the Detective Department, and he at once answered it. He says that Mr. Gorton some information which will probably not make the position of Luckhardt, or Luckhart, any stronger in that community.

Luckhardt is a young man who spent the most of his time in Richmond. He has relatives living here now. He claims that his child, which was taken from him when it was quite young, was afterwards kidnapped by a woman who once lived in Chesterfield county. The wife of Luckhardt is not in the city now.

NEWS GATHERED FROM OUTSIDE

Little Boy Drank Carbolic Acid by Mistake, But Will Recover.

THE HONOR ROLL OF PUPILS

Entertainment in Leader Hall. Items of Interest in the City.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch, No. 190 Hull Street.

Phillip, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee, of Ninth Street, between Desatur and Hull Streets, swallowed carbolic acid yesterday afternoon late, and but for the heroic work of Drs. Oscar Owen and M. P. Rucker would probably have died.

The little fellow was left in the room to himself for only a few minutes, and child-like, reached for a bottle he saw. The bottle contained the deadly acid, and the child took a swallow before any one noticed.

Dr. Owen was at once called and Dr. Rucker was on the scene a few minutes afterwards. Emetics were administered, but for several hours the life of the infant was despaired of.

At 11 o'clock last night the physicians reported that the child would recover. His mouth was burned, but not enough of the acid was swallowed to cause fatal results. The child is now in the hospital, and the school trustees are much gratified.

Mr. Lee is a young man of the city, who is very well and popularly known.

The Honor Roll.

Principal G. Carrington Moseley is much pleased with the honor roll of the pupils of the school for this month. There are many pupils in each grade who have made good marks—all above 90—and the school trustees are much gratified.

The following is a list of those who made good marks in the school:

Handcuff King.

In Leader Hall on Friday and Saturday nights an entertainment will be given for the benefit of the Eagles' Band, of the city.

Nobly, the handcuff king and illusionist, has been engaged, and will, so he says, get out of any pair of handcuffs made by the police. The officers of Manchester believe they will be able to lock the fellow up so that he can't get away, and with this end in view they are looking to their trousers.

Personals and Briefs.

Mr. M. A. Campbell returned to the city yesterday from Portsmouth, where he attended the Methodist Conference.

Little James Condon, of No. 149 Porter Street, is quite ill with typhoid fever. An entertainment was given in Leader Hall last night for the benefit of Coward Avenue Christian Church. A large crowd attended.

Alvin Anderson, a negro, was arrested yesterday morning on the charge of stealing a skirt.

Italian Boys Coming.

One of the most delightful entertainments on the Iycon course platform this year is "The Italian Boys," a combination of five boy artists—violin, harp, clarinet and flute.

The boys will be accompanied by Elbert Poland, the humorist, and will appear in the Y. M. C. A. Hall as the opening number of the popular entertainment course, being conducted by the Theatrical Society Club, assisted by the other boys' clubs of the association.

The object of the boys is to provide clean, popular attractions, and at the same time, if possible, earn a neat egg for the furnishing fund of their rooms in the new building.

AT MEMORIAL.

Patients There From the Carolinas.

The Carolina Memorial Hospital, which has the largest representation of patients from that place, and from present prospects it will be one of the most successful, from the hospital point of view. Nine patients were present Monday night, and all were getting along as nicely as possible. A relief would show that they are from all parts of North and South Carolina. They are: Miss Allen Ward, of Darlington, S. C.; Mrs. R. B. Crawford, of Winston-Salem, N. C.; Mr. Gue S.

STILL OPPOSED TO CLOSED SHOP

Not Question of Wages, Vice-President of Typothetae Said Yesterday.

MAYOR MUCH INTERESTED

Receives Letter From National Organizer Suggesting Plan of Arbitration.

"It is not a question of wages that we contend against," said Mr. Robert Whitte, vice-president of the Typothetae, which is opposing the claims of the striking printers for an eight-hour day and a union shop, "but we are unalterably opposed to the closed shop. If it were only a question of wages there never would have been a strike. We do not care for this, but the union insists that we grant the eight-hour day, and that we have a closed shop. Neither the shorter hours nor the salaries to be paid are questions that interest us."

In answer to a question from a Times-Dispatch reporter as to what would probably be the result of the offer of the striking printers to arbitrate, the vice president of the Typothetae said: "The union is not in a position to make an offer of arbitration. It is not a question of wages that we contend against."

McGuire's vs. High School.

The final game of the interscholastic championship will be played here Friday afternoon between McGuire's eleven and the eleven from the High School. Much interest is manifested in the outcome. The High School won out in the last game, and McGuire's gridiron warriors have strengthened their weak spots.

Hold Convention.

The Christian and Missionary Alliance will hold a two-day convention at No. 1 North Seventh Street, Thursday and Friday. The services will be conducted by the Rev. A. J. Ramsey at 10:30 A. M., 2 P. M. and 8 P. M.

NEED MORE ROOM FOR RICHMOND

Chamber of Commerce Will Likely Apply for Additional Space at Jamestown.

Hon. John Whitehead, representing the department of exhibits of the Jamestown Exposition, was again in the city yesterday for the purpose of visiting the manufacturers of Richmond, with the view of securing a full line of exhibits from them.

Of the space applied for by the Richmond Chamber of Commerce—viz., 25,000 square feet—the indications are now that only about 5,000 square feet remain to be disposed of, and to accommodate all of the manufacturers who will doubtless desire to exhibit, early application by the chamber for additional space is necessary.

The secretary of the chamber will to-day mail to the manufacturers generally a blank form of application for space, which is to be filled up by the individual manufacturers. This will be sent out with a communication requesting the manufacturers to consider the matter, and to determine how much space they will require.

Mr. Whitehead will endeavor to call upon all the manufacturers who, it is thought, will exhibit, but, as at present advised, he will be able to devote only the remainder of the week to this purpose. It is, therefore, essential that intending exhibitors shall at the earliest moment practicable determine how much space they require, so as to facilitate Mr. Whitehead's endeavor to call upon all the manufacturers, any whom he should omit to call upon should fill up the blank and return it to the secretary of the chamber not later than Saturday next.

Mayor Gets Letter.

Mayor Carlton McCarthy yesterday morning received a letter from Mr. R. G. Brady, national organizer for the Typothetae Union, stating that the arbitration could be effected on the wages scale if the employing printers would concede the shorter-hour day and the closed shop. Mr. Whitte, in substance, said what is quoted above.

The Mayor has not had a reply from the Typothetae. He said yesterday that he was expecting a letter from the officers of the Typothetae, and that until he received this he could not tell at what time a conference committee would be called. Captain McCarthy is anxious to settle the strike, which has been going on for fifteen months, and with this end in view he is working as hard as he can.

"Nick" Carter With Senators.

Conrad P. Carter, a University of Virginia man who made a great record on the diamond for his college in 1901, 1902 and 1903, being captain of the team the latter two years, has signed with the Washington Americans for next season. He is a pitcher of no mean ability, and his friends at the University are glad that he has been taken into fast company.

He pitched last year for the Syracuse team in the New York State League, and had at one time an offer from McGraw to join the New York Giants. He declined this offer, as he also did one from the Washington team at that time.

Dr. Spofford's Address.

In an article published in Saturday's Times-Dispatch, announcing the fact that Dr. A. R. Spofford would address an audience in Richmond on the afternoon of the 28th of November, it was stated that he would address the Co-operative Educational Association, whereas it should have stated that he would address the Virginia Educational Conference in a meeting held under the auspices of the conference division of superintendents. This is a general meeting and will be attended by all visiting delegates.

Mr. Spofford will also address the Virginia Library Association in the afternoon at 3 o'clock, to both of which meetings the public is cordially invited.
